ARTSENTA

NEWSLETTER MAY JUNE JULY 2016

On the 16th of March, Artsenta went on a trip to Hooper's Inlet out on the Otago Peninsula. It was a fine but chilly day. We hired out the Hooper's Inlet Community Hall where we had a nice fire going, with cups of tea and biscuits to keep us cosy, as well as staff putting on a beautiful BBQ lunch. We did some drawing (the cover image is one of these) and those who wanted to went on a walk too see the sea lions at Allans Beach. It was a great day had by all.

Above are some pictures from our trip to Hooper's Inlet and Allans Beach on the Otago Peninsula; Sea Lion's, BBQ, sketching and beautiful surrounds, what a great day out!

Privacy Creatures. Artsenta has been asked by the privacy commissioner, to submit 5 works to help promote privacy week which runs from 9th - 14th of May. The theme for the project is 'Privacy Creatures', and will involve other creative spaces from around New Zealand. The images will be displayed on the privacy commissions website <http://privacy.org.nz/> as well as their social media channels.

Hats 'N' Hotties

Artsenta Artists embraced their latest community contribution to Northern Artery's Fundraising Auction. Proceeds from the auction will go toward Te Whare Pounamu Dunedin Women's Refuge and their end of year Christmas function for tamariki/children who attend their education programme.

Artsenta created and donated over 80 hats and hottie covers to the event. The auction had not happened when going to print - so we look forward to reporting back on the auction in the next newsletter and on our facebook page.

Front Window Project

Over the past three months, Artsenta has been filling our front window with paper-mache fungal growth, plants and trees, knitted critters and minute bugs, all contributing to the growth of an Artsenta Jungle. As the growth of our jungle slows, and the sun begins to lower in the sky, we will see the front window's next theme of 'Light' start to glow. We will be making candles, lamps and lanterns, making use of our projector, and adorning the space with lights. This display will act as a nice backdrop for our annual Mid-Winter event.

Official Opening

After a lot of hard work from all the staff at Artsenta, we moved into our new building on Princes Street, and mostly we agree that it is a much better place. More relaxed and welcoming. On the 24th of February we had our official opening night attended by about 80 people. Lovely food and drinks accompanied by beautiful guitar from Rob made for a great night. Sara and I served up the food and were mistaken for mother and daughter! The centre looked amazing and with lots of artwork on display it gave visitors a chance to appreciate the variety of craft, art and creativeness that occurs within these walls.
